DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2-4 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 2-4 are claiming one fluid that has both a large and a small sound velocity (claim 2), specific gravity (claim 3) and Prandtl number (claim 4). Applicant must clearly define that there are two fluids being claimed. Likewise claim 10 is claiming a "working fluid resulting from mixing" which is both lighter and heavier than air. Applicant must clearly specify that a fluid lighter than air is being mixed with a fluid heavier than air.

While the drawings are clear, it is noted that device is misspelled on figures 6 and 8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-6 (claims 2-4 as best interpreted in light of the above clarity problems) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watanabe et al (7,404,296) in view of Garrett (5,953,921).

Watanabe et al disclose applicants' basic inventive concept, a thermoacoustic cooling system with long vertical tubes connected by shorter horizontal tubes with stacks in the longer tube to produce a standing and a traveling wave to produce refrigeration, substantially as claimed with the exception of mixing different working fluids to perfect the cooling effect produced by the system. Garrett shows a thermoacoustic cooling system with a gas fill port 22 and mentions that mixtures of working fluids can be used in line 32 of column 3. Garrett further states that conditions such as sound speed can be modified by altering the mixture (lines 20-27 of column 4). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicants' invention from the teaching of Garrett to modify the thermoacoustic cooling system of Watanabe et al by modifying the working fluid to produce the most efficient cooling. In regard to claims 5 and 6, the location of the mixer is seen as a matter of obvious design choice for an ordinary practitioner in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Garrett '216 shows fluid mixing in the thermoacoustic art in the paragraph beginning on line 40 of column 2. Swift et al shows a similar thermoacoustic cooling system, with no fluid mixing.
